Crowdfunding for new edition of the List of the World's Largest Ski Resorts

In mid-December 2025, a crowdfunding campaign will launch to finance a new edition of the list of the world's largest ski resorts.

Between 2013 and 2019, Christoph Schrahe published this report annually. It was the only source of independent key figures on the size of ski resorts, compiled using a standardized methodology and his own measurements. Until recently, the report was available for free download. A new edition of the now seven-year-old report has not been possible since then due to the immense effort involved each year. This is set to change with the help of the campaign running on the crowdfunding platform 1000x1000.

Those who wish to support this initiative for greater transparency can do so here.
